I am going to a Relaxed Exhibition Viewing at MK Gallery!

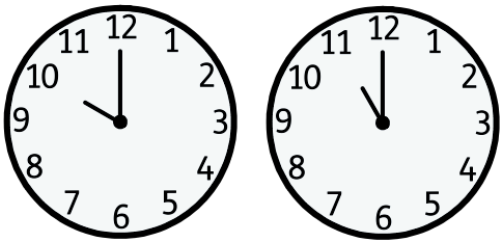

MK Gallery

On Sunday, I am going to a Relaxed Exhibition Viewing at MK Gallery.

This is MK Gallery.

The relaxed opening hour is from 10-11am.

When I arrive, I will need to go to the front desk to buy my ticket, unless I have bought one online already.

I might have to wait in a queue, but it won't take long!

If I would like to, I can borrow a Sensory Scout Kit to take around the exhibition with me.

I can find them in a wooden box by the exhibition entrance.

The entrance to the exhibition is directly opposite the front desk, through the glass doors.

The exhibition I will be exploring is called L.S. Lowry: The Theatre of Life.

This exhibition features lots of paintings and drawings by L.S. Lowry.

L.S. Lowry was a British painter. He is most famous for his paintings of industrial landscapes, and busy scenes full of people!

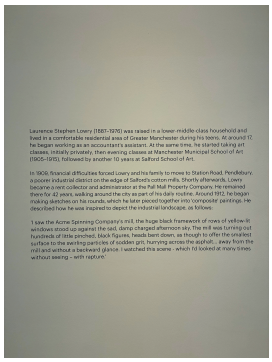

There are five gallery spaces full of artwork for me to explore.

There is information on the walls for me to read.

I can also find extra information on the Bloomberg Connects app.

There are benches to sit down on throughout the galleries.

There is also a comfy reading area with some books about L.S. Lowry I can read, if I would like.

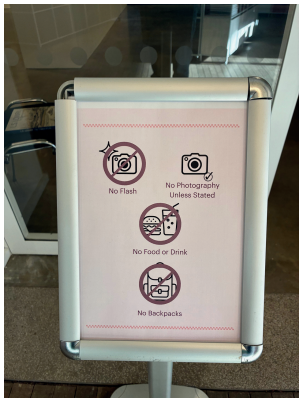

Once I get to the end of the exhibition, I will exit through the glass doors, and into the MK Gallery Cafe.

I need to pay close attention to signage outside, and inside the galleries.

I can only take photos of artworks that are labelled with the camera and tick.

If I need to use the toilet while I am at MK Gallery, I can follow the WC signs to get there.

There is also a Changing Places Facility I can use if I'd like to. A member of MK Gallery staff can show me the way.

If I feel like I need a movement break or some fresh air while I am at MK Gallery, I can use the Playscape.

The Playscape is to the right of the main orange gallery building.

Thank you for visiting MK Gallery!
